Jeff Paris is a registered Music Together teacher and licensed director. He's been makin' music with kids and adults for years in Brooklyn and Queens. He is an experienced singer, percussionist, and pianist. He is also an editor and writer, and has performed on stage as an actor and poet. His love of music and his work with kids brought him to Music Together, and it makes him happy every day.

BABIES, KIDS, ADULTS, AND MUSIC

Every child is musical – just like learning to walk or talk, they are learning music from the moment they are born. If you've ever gently rocked a child, or hummed to them to ease their crying, you know that music touches something deep within us. Babies feel it, kids feel it, and so do we.

Music Together classes are designed for children from birth to 5 years old. We surround them with rhythm, pitch, and all kinds of rich musical information -- but just as important, we surround them with a community of adults and kids having fun making music. Each week, in a safe and loving space, they see that making music is natural and joyful. This is the simple, powerful truth that can make music a treasured part of their lives, for the rest of their lives.

Music is one of the greatest gifts you can ever give your child.

WHAT IS MUSIC TOGETHER?

Music Together is a nationally recognized, research based, early childhood music program with centers throughout the United States and in other countries.

Music Together classes are based on the belief that making music with children, in the family and in a community of families:

- enriches the lives of both children and adults;
- promotes musical growth in children by nurturing their innate musical aptitude and providing a groundwork for future musical explorations;
- shows us how much FUN music is!

WHAT ARE MUSIC TOGETHER CLASSES LIKE?

Classes are made up of 6 to 12 children, each child accompanied by one (or both) parents or a caregiver.

The teacher leads the class in songs, dances, and rhythm chants. We make music through the natural and expressive movement of our bodies in:

- fun, playful, interactive ways to focus on tonal and rhythmic elements of music;
- small and large movement;
- free, expressive dance;
- use of props (scarves, bells, eggs, etc.);
- opportunities for improvisation by children as well as adults

Music Together parents discover what a powerful role model they are to their child, just by having fun with the music themselves. In doing so, they often find that their own musicality flourishes as well!

In these classes there is no right way or wrong way—there is only each explorer's way into the vast and wonderful world of music.

 EMAIL POLICY

Your email will be used for class cancellation alerts and important updates. You will also receive a few e-newsletters a year directly from Music Together with articles and insights to help you keep things musical at home. You can opt out of these after the first one. Your email will never be shared with third parties.
